

Brainstorming Solutions to Your Problems

Think of a problem you are trying to solve. Think about it for about 5 minutes without trying to come up with a solution. Now take some colored pencils and color in the picture below as you think of a solution. Write down any ideas you have without evaluating them as “good” or “bad.” See if you can come up with at least 10 ideas. Then go back and see if there are any worth exploring. Circle the ideas that you think are possible solutions to your problem.
